MY W. M. PRAND.

Stand on a foneral mound. Far, from all that lure thee ; With a barren heath around, And a cypress bower above thee; And think, while the sad mind frets, And the night in cold gloom closes, Of spring, and spring's eweet violets,

Of summer, and summer's rosss, Sleep where the thunders fly Across the tossing billow ; The cauopy the aky, And the lovely deck thy pillow; In mockery dashes o'er thee.

Of the cheerful hearth and the goiet home.

Of the breath of the mountain breezes.

will be made known to members on application at this office.

Tuesday night last, was the coldest of the season. On Wednesday morning the Thermometer stood several degrees below zero. A considerable quantity of snow fell during the first three days of the week; but not sufficient to make sleighing.

An Election is near at hand, but as yet the Clerk of the Assembly has not forwarded us a copy of the Journals. We should like to know how the present members voted, without hunting over the "Votes and Proceedings." The Journals must be printed ore this time.

We have been requested to announce that service will take place in the Congregational Church; morning and evening, on the Past Day; after which collections will be made to aid the India Relief Fund. Service to commence at 11 o'clock a. m., and 61 p. m.

The question is frequently asked-What are the Commissioners doing towards opening the Town Line West? Now; we do not pretend to be the mouthpiece of that Board, but we will answer the above question by stating, that all the funds'paid in, by subscribers, has been expended. No doubt the Committee will shortly send around a collector, when we liope the friends of the project will be prepared to furnish him with the needful.

We regret to state that one of the children of Mr. Abraham Corryell, of this place, met with a serious accident on Monday last, which very near terminated fatally. It appears she was left in charge of a smaller chi'd for a short time, and while attempting to build up a fire her clothes became ignited, and were nearly burnt off. Portunately she had on a woollen dress, which, in all probability saved her life. Her arms, neck and chest is badly burned, and she now lies in a precarious condition.

The Atty-General has long been considered the ruling spirit of the Coalition, - and judging from his antecedents, what can be expected from him in fu ture ? The dodge, however, to rid themselves of the sins of omission and commission-of the truckling, trickery and knavery of the Coalition just expiring, before making an appeal to the electors, by the formation of a New Ministry, was really a clever one ;-fortunately for the country it is too open and barefaced not to be detected; and Mr. Mc-Donald, with those be may call around him as bis colleagues, must stand or fall upon the acts and policy of the late Administration.

That a general election will follow, is almost sure; in fact the language of the organs on this point is unmistakable. "It therefore beligores the electors of Canada to prepare for the coming struggle. No stone will be left unturned by the agents of the " powers that be," to scure the return of a majority of working supporters. Government patronage, and petty offices, will be liberally bestowed; and no doubt, any amount of bribery and corruption will be resorted to.

Sour Grapes.

It is really amusing, to say the least, to read the silly twaddle of the city organs, 'in reference to this constituency. The Colonist, in speaking of its future representation, says-" it is pemature to speculate." While the Leader, not quite so guarded, but equally deceptive, states - " It is not impossible that Mr. Hartman may discover that County Town again and the Newmarket Era. he does not possess a perpetual lesse of North York." We might also make the insinuation, that " it is not impossible that the proprietor of leather and literature may discover "that he will not have the opporunity of always retnining in his possession large sums of the people's money. Mr. Hartman never stood higher in the estimation of the constituency than at present; and fights, &c., &c., for material to fill a small sheet should there be an appeal to the people, and weekly, to distribute amongst its friends, i he be the chosen man of the Reform Party, nover would be go to the polls with surer prospects of success. Since his last return to Parliament, he may safely challenge his opponents, even, to place their finger upon a wrong vote given. As a representative, of its inhabitants, to enable it to become induring the last term, he appears to have giv- corporated, that it may be on a more equal

The Leader also says Mr. Hartman of Crown Lands." It is really astonishing how this " Crown Lands Commissionership" Those of our subscribers who purpose matter who the man is, or how capable paying their subscriptions in wood, will confer he may be to discharge the duties of the office, ever since the Member for Grey has been in l'arliament, the Leader has habitually traduced them, in the vain hope to pich-fork his reistive into that office. Sure ly, the Leader does not think the public so understand his movements. It will be time enough for the organs to find fault with prominent members, who have exposed the duplicity of their masters, when they again offer themselves for re-election. We need not advise the electors, however, against want to make a trial of their strength, let them send one of their mercennry friends to North York, and we will vouch for 'it, tho Riding will teach him a lesson. The field is open-now is your time. We should like to see the man who would dore stand up before the electors of this constituency tietics, from which we take the following in and attempt to pallinte the iniquities of the me before this. I often visit Richmond Hill Corlition. It would be equal to Barnum's ber of Members 37; average bearers, 75; Menogerie. Governments have tried to buy and sell this constituency before; but the present Administration would find their defeat more ignominious than any previous one. The electors of this Riding have always expressed their opinions without fear or favor, and never will they be dictated to by hirelings from the city. Besides, the iniquities practiced by the members of the present crew at the helm of offairs, would not be pullisted by any sensible man in the constituency, and it would be inconsistent in them to support any person who could wink at their misconduct. The yarn of the pres ent Advisers to His Excellency has been spun out, and they may as well yield up int from and coming to the Town, via the care; their places with a good wrace, as to force which number I am reliably informed exceeds The organs say Mr. McDonald has called to their places with a good grace, as to force

Ro Ministry Yet!

Un to the time we go to press, we have no reliable intelligence that Mr. McDonald has ucceeded in the formation of a New Ministry, although nearly a week has elapsed since he undertook the matter. When we consider that he must have known, for a considerable time previous to the resignation of the Go alition, that changes were to be made, - and this is evident from the fact that the gentleman he has called to his assistance from Lower Canada actually made a tour East in order to feel the public pulse and find new material,we say, when we consider these things, it does not speak much for Mr. McDonald's popularity not to be able to approvince his colleagues ere this. There is evidently a desperate game being played by the wire-pullers; and they find themselves in an awkward fix. In order to get rid of the odium attached to the expiring Minister, a new shuffle of the political cards has been made, and the Attorneythe natural inference, when he allows a week to pass without being able to announce his cola new Cabinet, it would not have been a matter of so much surprise; but when we reflect that it is a man acquainted with all the outs and ins of the recent shuffling, it looks ominous, and does not speak much for his political standing in the country.

The next question that naturally arises is-Is Itis Excellency justified in allowing that gentleman so long a time to bank about his wares ? If Mr. McDonald cannot find colsome one else? It looks to us too much like a return to Compactism; and we venture to affirm, that in case of an appeal to the people, all these things will be remembered by the the fact, that every change made during the past three years, has had the one grand object in view, that of elevating certain families, and trying to build up a Canadian aristocracy .-In case Mr. McDonald does not succeed, His Excellency had better call Solicitor General Smith as his chief Councillor, or the Mail Bags. Whaterer he does, he will no doubt hang on to the present crew: at least, it ap-

I am not, sir, I am sorry to say, a subscriber to either of those Journals, and consequently know little of what has passed between then, in the late contest about the seat of the County Town; but whenever I have chanced to see a number of the Gazette, I have been forcibly reminded of the old story, of "the little boy and his first long-tailed coat." Since Richmond Hill has managed to create enough gossip, dog has scarcely been able to contain itself, and has finally contracted the habit of calling occasional meetings, to take into consideration the propriety of enlarging its dimensions, by taking in a great part of Markham and Vaughan, and thus sufficiently increasing the number en very general entisfaction,-and several footing with Newmarket and thus, vainly imleading gentlemen of those who opposed agining it to stand a chance of being chosen him at the last election, have given repeated as the seat of the County buildings, should a assurance of their determination to render separation take place between it and the City remove the snow, after a storm, in front of his a cordial support, in case he again offers for of Toronto. No believe they are anxious on the subject, - and of all the absurd propositions, and unwarrantable assumptions ever generated this is the king. The very idea of a little anthill like Richmond Hill, situated so near Toronto, being chosen for such a purpose, is ridiculous in the extreme: we might as well have no separation. Of the unprosperous condition of the village and the unenterprising state of its inhabitants, we have dull of comprehension as not to be abis to many pidols; for one I might refer you to the fournal of one of its most respectable inhabitants, who a short time ago advertised a sale of building lote, and ance trying all possible ways to make the people believe it was actually chosen for the County Town could, though the day was fine, the lots beautifully situated, and most of the population of the village very excellent Map of Canada, besides the giving credence to what those journals in collected on them, only sell three or four, and the interest of the Government may say,- those all to one man, who lived some distance al gentieman is the Cities, Towns and Vil- their character is too well known throughout from the place, and who could certainly " see the constituency.
